GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

THE RICHARD PERRY LOVE HOME

PREFACE

---

This little book is limited to the historical aspect of the Love Family, particularly of the Richard Love branch.

If you have never experienced the gathering of genealogical data, you have little idea of the discouragement and difficulties that go with a job of this kind. Letters were written to every one known to be connected with the family, asking their cooperation in getting names and dates for this book. Family records have been consulted; old bibles and grave yards have been gone too.

The Media Research Bureau at Washington D.C. was checked for the early history of the Love name and crigin of the family.

The study of this family has been interesting and very satisfactory. The family throughout have been found to be good clean, earnest men and women, interested in the community where they live. The early family was pioneers in Indiana and Michigan, and did their full part in clearing the land that we now enjoy as homesteads in Three Oaks Township, Berrien County, Michigan.

The Richard Love branch were farmers in most part, yet many of them had trades, such as carpenters, masons and builders.

The various branches of the Love family, show, there have been among them, Lawyers, Judges, Physicians, Congressmen, Writers and Poets, who have attained high success in their several vocations.

We hope this little book will be the means of saving history, that would otherwise be lost.

5 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

We find a missing link between the Richard Love branch and the Virginia branch, no record is at hand at this time, connecting them, yet it is believed Richard Love came from Virginia to Ohio, then to Franklin County Indiana, where his oldest children were born, thence to Three Oaks Township Michigan, where he cut and made a farm from the native forest.

If this missing link could be found, then we could carry our history back to England in an early day.

Records show, the Loves were among the very early people to come to America.

Let us hope some records may yet be found to establish this connection.

We have tried to make these pages as complete as possible with the data available now.

It is my hope some one later will carry these records to a more complete history of this wide extended family.

Yours very truly,

George W. Allen

La Porte,

1937

Indiana.

PROGENITORS OF THE LOVE FAMILY

The name of Love is said to have been originally used as either a baptismal name or as a nickname and to have been later adopted as a surname by the sons of one so called.

It has two possible derivations, the first being from the endearment, "the love", and the other being from the French le loup (Latin lupus) meaning "the wolf". The second of these theories is the one more generally accepted.

This is one of the few English surnames which have not gone through many variations or modifications in spelling during the seven or eight centuries in which they have been in use.

On the earliest records, however, it is found in the forms of Lupus, Loup, Loue, Lou, Lofe, Loufe, Luf, Luff, Luffe, Luof, Luiff, Luv, Lov, and Love.

Families of this name were to be found at early dates in the English Counties of Cambridge, Oxford, Wilts, Buckingham, Hants, Norfolk, Suffolk, Kent, Northampton and Sussex, as well as in the cities and vicinity of London, in the Counties of Ayr and Wigton, Scotland, and in numerous parts of Ireland.

The Cambridgeshire line of the family in England was represented about the year 1540 by Richard Love, of the Isle of Ely, who married Catherine or Kathrine Tuck and was the father by her of Thomas, Elizabeth, Julyan, or Julian, Catherine or Katherine, and Barbara.

Of these, the first son, Thomas was the father by his wife Margerett, daughter of John Hawkins, of Thomas, Richard, and Henry, of whom the first was the father by his first wife Mary, daughter of John Growse, of John and Thomas, and may possibly have had further issue by his second wife Joane or Joan, daughter of John Wright.

John Love, of Hampshire, England, before the year 1560, was the father of John, Jane, Elizabeth, and William. Of these, John married Margaret Pinke and left issue by her of John, Richard, Nicholas, Ann, Joane, and Elizabeth, of whom the first died without issue.

One of the earliest of the Irish lines of the family was that represented about the beginning of the 17th. century by Thomas Love, of County Kerry, who died in 1650. He is said to have been the son of Thomas Love, of Cambridgeshire, England, and was the father or brother of that William Love who was living in County Kerry in 1622. This William was the father of Richard, who was the father of Richard and John, of whom the latter was the father of John, Berry, Eusebius, and Herbert.

Among the first of the name to come to America were John Love, who settled at Boston, Mass., in 1635; Richard Love, who settled in Virginia in 1642; Thomas Love, who made his home at Boston, Mass., and was married in 1652 to Hannah Thurston; of Virginia, in 1654; and John Love, who resided in New Hampshire sometime before 1692.

As early as 1736 one Samuel Love settled at Salisbury, Fairfax County Va. He married Ann James, of Maryland, and was the father by her of Nellie, Mary, Ann, James, Elizabeth, Harriet, Charles, and Richard. Of these, the descendants of James resided chiefly in Virginia; those of Charles settled in Tennessee; and those of Richard resided in South Carolina.

Ephraim Love came from Ireland to Augusta County, Va., sometime before 1756, probably about the year 1740, and was the father of at least two sons, Joseph and Samuel.

Of these sons, the first married Mary Taze sometime before 1770 and had issue by her of six children, Esther, Polly, William, Dorcas, Charles, and another son whose name is not certain; and Samuel (younger brother of Joseph) married Dorcas Belle, by whom he had issue of Robert (Lieutenant in the Revolutionary War), Thomas, James, William, Nancy, Bell, and at least two other daughters, whose Christian names have not been found.

It is asserted by one family historian that four brothers of the Irish branch of the family, Joseph, Samuel, Isaac, and John Love, settled in Pennsylvania in the latter eighteenth century.

The above history of the Love family was taken from records compiled by The Media Research Bureau Washington, D.C.

While we cannot trace a direct connection with any branch given above, yet it is my firm belief, that Richard Perry Love of Three Oaks Township, Michigan, came from Virginia, as a boy to Ohio, then to Indiana, then later to Michigan, and might easily be from these Virginia families. Then too, the name, Richard seems to be a family name with these people. While this is no proof, yet in view of his people living there at one time, it would not seem unreasonable to believe he belonged to their branch.

THE FIRST LOVE FAMILY REUNION

Mr. Burr Hupp Sr. of LaPorte Indiana, said to Aunt Hat Love (Mrs. Isaac Love), If you will set the day and name the place, I will do the rest. She set September first 1924 as the date and her old homestead south of Three Oaks as the place. Twenty five members of the family were present. The family came from LaPorte and Three Oaks. They came early so a full day might be had to visit with their own people, which they saw so seldom. From this meeting has come a lasting friendship.

The oldest generation represented at this meeting, was Mrs. Harriet Butler Love, widow of Isaac Love, at who's home this meeting was held. The second generation included Mrs. Ida M. Allen, Guy C. Love, Dora A. Love, and Birch S. Love. The third generation included Fred G. Hupp, Burr W. Hupp, William M. Allen of La Porte, Mrs. Dorothe Phillips Tyrrell of Maywood Ill., Mrs. Harriet Love Jenkins and Vida Mae Love of Three Oaks, Michigan.

The fourth and youngest generation had seven present; James G. Hupp, Burr W. Hupp Jr. George Lewis Allen, William Martin Allen of LaPorte, Arthur B. Tyrrell, Dorothe A. Tyrrell of Maywood, Ill., Howard F. Jenkins of Three Oaks.

A wonderful potluck dinner was served, a dinner as only the Love women know how to cook and serve. After dinner a business meeting was held, Ida M. Allen being the oldest decendent of Richard and Anna Love, was made President of the family, Birch Love Vice President, Dora Love Secy-Treasurer. It was voted to hold these reunions each year, that family ties might be made closer to each other, after all, blood is thicker than water, as our reunions has proven.

MARTHA ANN LOVE

† † † By Eva Davis Clark † † †

Martha Ann Love, the youngest child of Richard and Anna Love, born April 21st 1843, was the first white women born in Three Oaks, New Buffalo and Chikaming Townships. Writing after many years since her death, I can truthfully say, that in all the homes I ever visited or boarded, I never was in a home that was so full of harmony as ours, every day, a day of joy. It is a pleasure now to remember this. I think my father had the most even desposition of any man I ever knew, and mother had a very happy desposition.

The home was always open to all, especially to ministers and their familes, which was not always in perfect accord with sister Toct and I, especially when they flocked in the day before our gentlemen friends were invited to dine with us and ate up all the goodies and soiled the last clean table cloth, a very serious thing then, but something to laugh about now. Father was Supt. of the Sunday School for over 20 years, and mother a splendid teacher for as many years. It did not matter how much hay was down or how much it looked like rain in the morning. worship came just the same. After all, these are the things worth while in life. Not for all this worlds goods would I change the hope I have and the belief they had.

27 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

Mother went with Toot and Ed to California to live. She died very suddently. Her remains were brought back to Three Oaks. She was burried beside father.

Note-:

More could be said about these people, who did so much in the making of the early history of Three Oaks Township, if space would permit.

It has been said of Aunt Mat, that she was the life of any crowd when she was a girl because of her wit and her sunny disposition. She was a good cook and a good housekeeper, and a wonderful mother to her two girls.

Uncle Al was known as a good farmer, and, Was outstanding in the community in which he lived. He was known for his fine integrity, being in all a good citizen.

find that great grandmother Anna Love was the fourth child of James and Abigail Stevens. He was born May 9th. 1769 in New York. She was born Oct. 14th. 1772.

They moved to Butler Co. Ohio, and settled on a farm about 11 miles from Hamilton Ohio. This city of Hamilton to-day is about 20 miles from Cincinnati in Hamilton Co.

This is of interest to the Galbreath family here because Elizabeth Miller, wife of James Galbreath was born in Hamilton Co.

The record of the family given below was taken from Anna Stevens Love's bible.

To James and Abigail Stevens were born 12 children:

- 1 Lurene Stevens, born Dec. 26th. 1792.
- 2 Galmone Stevens, born Jan. 29th. 1794, died Jan. 3rd. 1826.

- 12 Abigail Harriet Stevens, born Dec. 7th. 1819.

29 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

Abigail, wife of James Stevens was drowned in a well in their orchard. James had the well filled with stone, which stands as a monument to mark the first tragedy of the Stevens family.

About 1830, James Stevens married Sarah Antrim and they had two children, Sarah and Mary. After a few years he sold his farm, which was to be paid for in 20 years. He then moved to Camden Ohio, in a county just north of Butler Co. , near the Indiana line. In less than two years he died.

Sarah, his wife, married again, died at Camden Ohio with Consumption at the age of 84 years.

It has been told of James Stevens, at one time his wife asked him to get her a paper of needles, he told her, his first wife used one needle for 30 years.

Mary Stevens taught school in Camden. Mr. Frank Van Oisdall being the principal of the school at the time. Mary Stevens died, in 1882 in Ohio.

Caleb Stevens, oldest son of James and Abigail was born in New York, moved with parents to Ohio when a small boy. As a young man he married Malinda Fisk. Caleb was a small man with red hair. He was a farmer. In 1846, he moved his family to Wabash Indiana. He built the first frame house in that county, cut the trees, had them sawed, ready for the building. He made the shingles himself. There was no school so the settlers chopped down the timber and built a school house in one day, then later a church.

The Caleb Stevens home was used as a preaching place for some ten years. He was a class leader and would walk to South Bend Ind. , a distance of 40 miles to attend quarterly meeting

His health broke when he moved his family to Lagro, Indiana, 6 miles east of Wabash City in Wabash Co. Here he and his boys engaged in manufacturing of Walnut lumber. The mill being on the bank of the Wabash River. From there they moved to Valparaiso, Ind. Here he died in 1859 at the age of 63 years. He was burried in an old cemetery, near the University. Although there was at one time a tombstone at his grave, no trace of the stone or grave is to be found after 75 years.

James N. Stevens was a preacher.

Levi P. Stevens went to California about the year of 1846, he opened a gold mine. He wrote home that he was well, and could hardly tell how much he was worth, finally his letters stopped coming and nothing could be learned of him. He never married. The other boys were all farmers.

Mrs Curtis writes this of Lydia B. Love.

Lydia B. Love, married John Galbreath May 30th. 1848, and moved on his farm, two and one half miles north east of Rolling Prairie Ind.

On Nov. 25th. 1849 he built their new home over the stump of the first tree cut down in the thick woods. There was no road, only a winding path through the thick timber, leading to the traveled road one mile west. A stranger found the place by following the blazed trees.

John was a class leader and steward for many years in the Mt. Pleasant Church. Lydia was the mother of five children, all of whom received education enough to become teachers in the schools of La Porte Co. and vicinity. She lived 17 years, after her marriage, died Jan. 20. 1864. at her home, after a short illness, very much like the Peritonitis of to-day. Although the Christmas of that year was a green one, it proved to be a very severe and hard winter, with much sickness and many deaths. It has been told by many, how two of her children, Mary Belle, age 10 and Anna Elizabeth, age 8 years cried at their mothers funeral, and how they stood with their arms around each other in their grief and sorrow.

All during their days, these two girls lived lives of true sisterhood to themselves, to their neighbors and to the community in which they lived.

When separated, as they were later in life, their correspondence with each other was so regular and so frequent, the friends of one, became the friends of the other, and they always shared each others joys and sorrows.

BURR WILLARD HUPP

Burr W. Hupp, the third son of Theodore and Mary Belle Galbreath Hupp, was born on a farm, two miles south of Stillwell Ind. May 20th. 1878. Attended country school until the age of 13 years. # GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

ELIZABETH MARTIN LOVE
(Wife of William Marion Love)

1837--1863

WILLIAM MARION LOVE

By his daughter, Mrs. George W. Allen.

William Marion Love was born in Franklin Co. Ind. When Marion, (as he was known by every one) was eight months old, his father, Richard Love came with his family to Southern Michigan and settled in Three Oaks Township. His wife, Anna Love was the first white woman in that community. Richard Love settled on the east half of the north-west quarter, section 24 in the fall of 1834, and built a comfortable Log House at the foot of a hill, near a large boiling spring. He lived there with his family until about 1850, when he built a fine Colonial frame house up on the road near the corner of the north and south road.

It was in this log house my father "Marion" Love spent his younger days, or until he reached manhood. He then learned the mason trade with Sherwood Martin. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Sherwood Martin, April 10th. 1859, at her fathers home near Three Oaks, Michigan. One child was born to them. (my self) Elizabeth died Jan. 16th. 1863. My father married again in 1876 to Mary Harvey, with whom he lived on the place immediately south west of the old homestead.

He owned most of all the estate of his father and 80 acres formerly owned by E.N. Shed and 60 acres adjoining over the line in Indiana.

He acquired these acres by thrift and economy. and was known for his strict business integrity and a good neighbor and devoted to his family.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Order at New Carlisle Indiana.

37 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

From the time of my mothers death until he married again, he made his home with his brother Hiram Love at Rolling Prairie Ind. He worked at his trade all through that section of the country for some years. He died, Dec 17th. 1894 at his home, at the age of 60 years, nine month and 25 days, he was burried at Pine Lake Cemetery, La-Poate Ind.

At the time of his death, he was one of four persons, who were residents of the Township who had lived there 50 years ago. .

After my mothers death, he broke up their little home where I was born, just over the line in Indiana and moved his trunk to his brothers.

After his second marriage, they moved to the farm known as the Shed place, which he had previously bought. After living there for a short time, he remodeled the house. He worked at his trade for a little time after his marriage then gave it up to devote all his time to farming.

In the spring time he made Maple Sirup at his 40 acre Sugar Camp of over 600 trees. The sirup was noted for its fine quality, always bringing a higher price than other makes. A small book could be written about his camp.

On this farm he lived the balance of his life.

His wife Mary survived several years, later she left the farm and moved to Three Oaks, where she died.

THE OLD SUGAR CAMP

By George W. Allen

The old sugar bush near the Michigan line,
Where Father Love made sirup in the winter time,
Six hundred trees were tapped each spring.
That kept one busy, the sap to gather and bring
To the camp where the boiling was done.
With old Dobbins and a wooden sled was real fun,
To wind around the woods, from tree to tree,
Taking sap from the pails--when it ran so free.

The camp had a brick fireplace
To boil the sap into sirup and a sugar paste.
Old rails and limbs from the woods,
Was burned, to boil the sap as it should.
Many hours were spent in boiling the sap,
Dipping off the scum, and many trees to tap.
As night came, and the sirup turns red,
We were all ready to quit and go to bed.

I often think of the good old times,
Spent in this camp, it seems almost sublime.
Gathering the sap from so many Maple trees,
On the days when it did not freeze.
Hauling it in on a old wooden sled,
With old Dobbins, myself and neighbor Fred.
We ran from tree to tree with all our might,
On the days when the weather was just right.

The memory of this old Maple sugar camp,
Will linger each season when the snow is damp.
Every spring, when we have a sugar snow,
I think of this old camp where I loved to go.
We sugared off most every night.
The sirup made each day must be just right,
To fill the cans, with a sweet so mighty fine,
From father Loves camp near the Michigan line.

ONE HUNDRED FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Of Richard Perry Love Family

As we look back to-day, "What is a hundred years or more?" In some cases, just the span of a single human life, and yet see what has come to pass right here before our eyes. The settling and making of a country is an undertaking of some considerable size. Yet men had the courage to leave their homes in a settled community and move west, there to cut out of a great forest, fields to raise food to eat, and build of logs from these clearing, homes to shelter themselves and their families. They built roads, Churches and Schools, first of logs and later the Colonial home.

It matters not from what state these sturdy pioneers came from, but the spirit and courage they brought with them does matter. These men wrought better than they knew, for out of their labors, came one of the greatest States in the Union,

When the territory west of the Alleghery Mountains was being developed in the early part of the eighteen thirties many families left the east and the south and came to Michigan. Among them was Richard Love and his family.

They arrived in Three Oaks Township in the latter part of October 1834, which was more than three years before Michigan was admitted to the union. Michigan became a State January 26 th. 1837. Richard Love was well qualified to undertake the founding of this community here.

He was sturdy and willing to hazard all he had in the experiment of casting his lot with other men in clearing of the land, building roads etc. and was successful because he prospered and in later life enjoyed living in one of the best homes in this country. So to-day as we now enjoy the conveniences here, we must remember these men laid the foundation for what we have here now.

Richard Love, the grand old man in who's honor this family meets annually, was the son of John and Mary Love, born February 27th 1793.

The place of birth is not known, but believed to have been in Ohio or Virginia.

As noted in the front part of this book, he married Anna Stevens. It is believed they went housekeeping at Fairfield, Franklin Co. Indiana, which is just north of Brookville, as we find that Hiram, John, Frances, Metildia, Isaac, Lydia, Frances and Marion were all born at Fairfield.

In the early part of October he moved his family to Three Oaks Township, Michigan, where he built a comfortable log cabin near one of the finest boiling spring in all that country.

Indians came here for their drinking water.

It has been told, that Richard Love made wooden pegs to fasten together parts of his cabin because he had no nails.

Grandmother Anna Love lived in this cabin for nine months before she saw the face of a white women. She saw many Indian squaws as they came to the spring for water.

Three Oaks Township had no grist mill at this time, so they had to either go to Michigan City Ind. or Terre Coupee, Prairie Ind. to get their corn meal and wheat flour made.

White people were scarce in the Township at this time and it was a real treat to see white folks. They heard of a family living near Michigan City, who's name sounded like some one they knew in Indiana or Ohio, so they drove their ox team to Michigan City to visit these people.

41 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

Perry, their tenth child was the first white person born in Three Oaks Township. He was born July 1st 1836 Martha Anna was the first girl born there. Her birth was April 21st. 1843.

It is believed the Loves came from Irish stock, Richard Love and some of his sons had features that would make one think this was true.

It is not known whether the large pine trees that stood in the front yard were native or were set out by Richard Love. Back and west of the house was a fine apple orchard, with many of the best apples of that period. It would be interesting to know how and where he got these trees.

In the beginning of this paper I speak of these early settlers building schools and churches.

It is not known just where the first school house stood, but is thought to have been near Spring Creek. It was made of logs, with oil paper for windows. The seats were hewed logs with wooden pegs for legs. Of course these seats were without backs. No desks were provided for study or to put the books and slates in.

Hiran Love the oldest son, made a desk for himself and had a lock on it. The other boys thought it a great treat to put their books in his desk. This desk was given to Guy Love later.

It can now be seen at The Chamberlain Memorial Museum at Three Oaks Michigan.

Isaac Love told his children of an old Indian Chief who died near their cabin at the spring. His tribe took his body and set it against a tree near Spring Creek and left it until his body fell to pieces. The children tell of a trip Grandmother Anna Love. made to Rolling Prairie to visit some friends and when she started home, horse back as it was the custom those days, they gave her a willow twig for a whip, when she arrived home, she set the stick in the ground and the twig became a large tree. It stood on the east side of the Colonial house near the open well, that had a windless and bucket to draw the water.

Grandmother Anna became a fine horse back rider, she had her own saddle and loved to ride.

The first Methodist Church class meeting of Three Oaks Township was organized at Spring Creek by Mr. & Mrs. Abram Martin, Mr. & Mrs. Richard P. Love, Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Valentine, and Mr. & Mrs. Elkany Ryther. After some years this organization was taken to Three Oaks.

In these days it was necessary for the young people to make their own fun and entertainment.

It has been told of a trick played on Isaac Love on his wedding night. Just as he and his bride arrived at his home, a group of boys, his brother Marion among them, took his wife away from him, put her in a sleigh and drove away.

Next morning Isaac showed up at his fathers home and found his wife there.

Isaac was a carpenter by trade and did his part in the building of the homes in Three Oaks Township. He at one time ran a saw mill, making broom handle squares. Its supposed these squares went to the Three Oaks Handle Mills where they were made into broom handles.

At one time Three Oaks had two or perhaps three broom handle mills, turning out millions of handles each year.

43 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

Hiram, John and Isaac were all carpenters.

It is not known whether Richard Love was a carpenter or not, I am wondering if he too was a carpenter and taught his sons the trade and built that fine old Colonial home as his homestead.

He was a man of fine integrity, his word was as good as his note. In 1884 when I came to Three Oaks, I often heard men speak of his good qualities. He was a good neighbor and friend.

So to-day, as we meet here in his honor, we should be proud of the good name he left behind.

We might do well to look to him and his good name as a pattern to follow in our lifes work.

He died at the farm, December 20 th. 1861, and was burried at Posey Chapel.

If time would permit, many interesting things might be told of the children of Richard and Anna Love, but they being no different from the average young people of that day, they had their pleasures and many of them of their own making, they did their full share in the buiding of this fine township we to-day enjoy.

I am sorry that a more complete history is not at hand just now, but I hope some day to devote some time in research in the things this family did in the development of this country about Three Oaks. It is interesting to study some of the dates in this family.

October was an important month with them, Richard and Anna were married Octoter 9th. Lydia was born October 8th., and they moved to Three Oaks Township in October-

February had its interest also. Richard was born Feb. 27nd. John the 12th. and Marion the 22nd. July came in for its share--Perry was born July 1st. and Isaac the 18th. It seems this family did things in regular order and at set times of the year.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

A hundred years ago, its quite plain,
 Timber was cut to make fields for grain,
 To the north was an endless forest without a break,
 Yet sometimes you see a flash of a lovely lake;
 The sky was like the heavenly blue up high,
 While the trees was the richest emerald dye.
 A boiling spring running day and night,
 Shines as it came into the morning light,
 Richard and Anna Love came here you know,
 To do their part in making this country grow.
 Around their cabin door was always neat;
 In summer wild flowers sent out odors sweet.
 Their hearts swelled with a joyful tune,
 In October as it did in the Golden June.

The above story given by George W. Allen at the annual reunion at Birch Love's home, known as the Isaac Love homestead near Three Oaks Michigan, August 11th. 1935.

This fine old home was built sometime about 1850, by Richard P. Love. It is believed he and his sons built this building. It was of the early American (Colonial) type, being built in the east and south at that period.

It had some very interesting Craftsmanship on it, all made by hand. The front doorway was well designed, and carefully built in that fine early American style. It had a fine fireplace with a hand made mantel, and the interior trim was in keeping with the style.

The unusual craftsmanship of this house was the main outside cornice, which was made of a poplar (Tulip) log in one piece. This building was about thirty feet wide, so the cornice was at least two feet longer. A tree was cut and hewed to the proper size, then with hollows and rounds, a crown mould was cut on its face, then the fascia and the plancher or soffit was cut on the one piece log. This cornice was at least 12 inches wide and extended back on top of the studs, and framed into the wall so it would stay in place.

Then on top a gutter was cut, the bottom of which had a fall to the down spout, all cut in this solid log. The bed mould and frieze was made of inch lumber and nailed to the studs.

The frieze was as wide as the three small windows that are seen in the picture. The returns of the cornice was made of lumber with members to match.

The front part of this house was a story and a half high, while the back part was only one story. The back roof extended over the kitchen porch as shown in the picture.

We have no plan of this house, but we believe it had a large living room on the west side, with a fireplace on the west side of the room, and two bed rooms on the east side. The kitchen was on the north, with a pantry at the end of the porch. Up stairs there are two bed rooms.

When this home was built, it was the show place of Three Oaks Township. When the writer came to this country, the home was still in a very good condition and was used for the hired man and his family. The gutter had rotted out around the down spouts holes and it became necessary to shingle out over the gutter, letting the water run over on the ground.

The Love children was raised in this fine home, in which they took great pride as they referred to it later in life. Richard Love showed good taste when he selected the early American style for his new home here in the Michigan woods.

This home was taken down by its new owner and a little cottage erected in its place.

The new home does not have the fine home like atmosphere the old one did. It does not have the fine tradition back of it as the one it replaced.

It takes years of time to build up that fine sentiment that comes with the raising of a family and see them grow into useful citizens.

The sad part of it all is, both man and homes grow old and must make way for new ones. Such is life.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

meeting of the Love Family was held Sunday November 6th. 1932 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Birch Love, three miles south of Three Oaks Michigan, in honor of their tenth wedding Anniversary.

Members of the family came from Three Oaks, Rolling Prairie, Chicago, and La Porte.

At noon a wonderful pot-luck dinner was served in their dinning room, in the center of the brides table was one of Mrs. William Allens's famous cocoanut cakes, lighted with ten candles.

Birch and Ada received several nice presents, one of them being a beautiful Aluminium Pressure Cooker, presented by the family assembled.

In the afternocrn a pretty scene took place in the yard, just east of the house, where a fine speciman of American Arbor Vitre Evergreen tree was planted in honor of Richard and Anna Love and their children, who were among the first settlers in Three Oaks Township.

This family made friends with the Redman, and the children slid down the hill near the cabin on a piece of bark in the winter time with the Indian boys. After the site for the tree was selected, every one present took part in the excavating of the hole to set the tree in. The setting of the tree was under the direction of William M. Allen Landscape Architect of La Porte Indiana, who gave the tree. The tree to be known as the,

IN THE LONG AGO

By George W. Allen

Was read by him at the Love Reunion at Birch Loves in Three Oaks Michigan, August 9th. 1931:

In the years of long ago,
There came to this Michigan land;
One Richard Love, a sturdy man,
He settled near a boiling spring,
To raise his family as the ax did ring
With the cutting of the timber at hand,
To make fields to feed his little band.

Richard Love and his faithful wife,
Worked and slaved all their life,
To cut and make from the native forest,
A home for their children, who, are a part of us
Who meet here to-day in honor of their name,
That Richard and Anna Love be added to fame,
For what they did in this honorable game.

The name of Richard Love, was known far or near,
As a Three Oaks Township pioneer.
He did his part, without a fear
Of the Indians who lived in this land,
But made friends with the red face man.
The Love boys slid down hill on a piece of bark,
With the Indian boys just for a lark.

To-day as a Love Family Clan,
Meet in honor of this little band,
Who came here in the long ago,
That his family might live and grow
Into a family who's honor to-day stands true.
We have kept the faith they set as best we knew,
For their good name we have brought it thru.

This thrifty man, Richard Love,
Built a fine home on 'the road above,
It was built of the finest native wood,
With Colonial cornice, other details mighty good.
This white house stood up neat and fine,
Along the road beside the trees of pine,
Where the Love boys and girls grew into useful kind.

So let us to-day sing of their deeds,
And say of them who worked for our needs,
We appreciate your toils to serve mankind,
You left a path well made behind,
For us to follow, to serve, to toil for a custom old,
We must face our problems true, we'r told,
By keeping our faith in the Love's we hold.

HISTORY

How cold is all history of any age,
Lifeless is the name, written on a page.
Records keep our memory bright,
Of their deed they thought was right.
Richard subdued the forest, 'tis said,
While others taught school instead,
'Tis a kindly feeling we have for the past,
These memory pages will stand firm and fast.

GUY C. LOVE

n the year of 1866, on the 15th. day of April a son born to Isaac and Harriet Love and they named him Guy C. Love.

As a boy he lived with his parents on the farm his father bought from the Government.

This farm was known as school land, in section sixteen, Three Oaks township Michigan.

On this farm Guy was born, as was his brother Birch and his sisters, Inez and Dora.

Like other boys of that time, he attended school in a little one room school near his home, receiving such education as was taught in such schools.

While living on the homestead, he became a farmer, which he followed most of his years.

As a boy, he had for a playmate and pal, his cousin, Wendel Paddock, who was about his age.

Later Wendel attended Michigan Agricultural College at Lansing. After graduating he went to New York as assistant State Horticulturist.

Later he moved to Fort Collins Colorado as the Dean of Horticulture. After some ten years at Fort Collins he moved to Columbus Ohio, where he served Ohio University as the Dean of Horticulture. These two boys were great friends during their boyhood days and continued so during the years. When Guy reached manhood he married Miss Pattie Rose Warren, of Three Oaks, September 28th. 1891. One child was born to them on July 31st. 1893 and they named her Harriet Love after his mother. After his marriage he and Pattie lived on the old homestead farm for two years, then an opportunity came for them to go on the Drew farm north of Three Oaks so they went and stayed there for eighteen months keeping house for Mr. Drew one year of the time.

From Drews, they moved back to Thrice Oaks and Guy worked on the Water Works during the fall. He was offered a position with Swift & Co. at the Stock Yards in Chicago. He took the job which he held for ten years. After leaving the Swift Co., they stayed two more years in Chicago. They then moved to Libertyville Ind. and worked on a farm for a Chicago man by the name of Mr. Coonley.

From here they moved to La Grange Ill. in 1909. They lived there about eight months, then moved to Buchanan Michigan, and stayed there for eight months, moving back to Three Oaks in the spring of 1911. In 1914 he built a home north of the old homestead, on a piece of land which his father bought from the Government.

He and his wife, Pattie Warren Love lived there until she passed away March 26th. 1936. Since then he has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Gorden Jenkins who lives near his home.

Guy has always been a good citizen, a faithful husband and fine father to his daughter.

He is large in statue, being at least six feet tall and weighs about two hundred pounds.

He favors his mothers people in looks.

To know him well is to like him.

On page thirteen you will find the records of his daughter and family.

EARLY REMINISCENCE

BIRCH SIDNEY LOVE

Three fourth of a century ago, the United States Government sold from their school land in section sixteen, Three Oaks Township, Berrien County, Michigan, a one-hundred and sixty-five acre farm to a young man, Isaac Love.

On this farm the young man built a four room house and opened a sawmill to saw squares for broom handles.

In this house Isaac Love and his bride Harriet Butler Ryther began housekeeping in the year 1865. Today their youngest son, Birch S. Love has his home in this same house and works the same farm which has been in the possession of the same family all these years and much of which Birch has cleared and broken.

At the age of sixty-two he finished digging out the black walnut stump, seven feet in diameter, which his father had felled before his death. Birch has cleared out a number of white wood (Tulip) stumps six feet in diameter.

Birch's love for farm animals and his success in training them began to show itself at an early age. When he was only five years old, One year before his father's death---Birch remembers that his father tied a sack of corn on old Nell, "the horse" and sent Birch to the old Francis mill to get it ground. When the corn was weighed, it was found heavier than the young rider who brought it to the mill.

As a lad Birch was always training and breaking animals to drive. On one occasion he made a yoke and broke a pair of calves to drive.

When the calves were sold he yoked them and drove them ten miles to Galien Michigan to market. When he was about ten years old he made a harness for his St. Bernard dog, Tige and broke the dog to draw a sled. It was on this sled drawn by this dog that Birch took Anna Love Cork sled riding.

At this same time another pet was following Birch around. This was Jim, the colt. One day when Birch and Nathan Swift were staging a show in the front yard with Tige and Jim as the acting animals, Birch's mother called the boys to the kitchen for warm cookies. Nathan followed by Tige ran in, behind him Birch and close on his heels was Jim. Both boys took a cookie for himself and one for his follower then out the front door to the show grounds again.

When Jim was eighteen months old he was Birch's saddle horse and still his follower as proven one day when Birch came to a stream whose only crossing was a twelve-inch foot plank.

A man standing by said; "You can't cross boy, you may as well turn back." Birch answered; "Why can't I cross?" Jumping from Jim's back and starting across the plank followed by Jim carefully placing his feet for each step until he reached the other side. Birch's saddle practice on Jim who took him over fences and playfully bucked at times did Birch good service when at the age of fifteen he spent three winter months in the saddle on one of Swift's ranches at North Bend Nebraska.

Birch still enjoys the care and management of horses, cows, and sheep and he is worshipped by his well trained English Bulldog, Rex-

Agricultural conditions, however, have changed and now Birch does much of his field work with a tractor instead of with horses.

By keeping in touch with Government Agricultural Projects, Birch shows on the old homestead a progressive spirit similar to that shown by other members of the family in the agricultural department of State Universities.

Editor:-

The above story was written by Mrs. Birch Shaffer Love.

On page fifteen more records of his family are given.

May I add a few statements about Birch and his good wife. It was at his home the first Love Reunion was held and every one since has been held at the old homestead except one and that was held at his home in Three Oaks, when he left the farm for a year.

Birch and Ada always bids us welcome each year as we gather under the maple tree in their front yard. Ada, as she is known to the family, is a fine woman and is admired by all who know her. She came from a college town near Newark Ohio. She was employed before her marriage at a Clinic Hospital in La-Porte as a Technician.

62 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

FRED G. HUPP

By Mrs. Elizabeth-Fisher-Sharp Hupp

1938

Fred G. Hupp is now sixty three years of age and his memory dates back fifty eight years to a night, dark as pitch as he remembers it, when he was sent about a half mile to get a neighbor women to come to his mother.

This women put five year old Fred into bed with her husband and hastened to the Hupp home. In the morning when Fred went home he found the stork had left him a baby brother, who lived only a few hours.

He spent the years of his childhood as boys on a farm usually do, helping about the chores, as he grew old enough and later in the fields.

As he was born and raised in Union Township, now called Washington Township, he attended the country school of Bethel, about a half mile from his home, until he was ready to enter La Porte High School.

He and his Uncle Oliver L. Galbreath, then a widower, had rooms together for the first year, over what was the Post Office. at the corner of Jefferson and Michigan Avenues, diagonally across the street from the present Post Office.

The next three years, he and Earl had a room near the old high school building, and did their own cooking. He says that the sight of bake beans and bologna brings those days vividly to mind.

He was graduated from La Porte High School in June 1893 with a class of seventeen other members. The faculty was composed of James F.

Knight, principal and teacher of History; James F. Haggerty Mathematics; William Whitmore, Commercial; Fred Simon, Art; Mr. Talbot, Chemistry; Richard Pellow. Music; and Miss Willoughby, Latin. Many of these instructors went later, to larger fields in education.

In the fall after his graduation, he began his first teaching, in a school in Union Township, near the Kankakee river. The following summer he attended a Normal School for teachers conducted by County School Supt., Oliver L. Galbreath. It was at this Normal that among others with whom he became acquainted were Minnie Nelson, whom he married in 1896 and Elizabeth Fisher who many years afterward became his second wife.

He taught one year at the Lake View School in Hudson Township, two years at Fargher and one year at the Summit, the last two being in Center Township. At the close of his third year of teaching he married Minnie Alice Nelson, and they lived in La Porte, and he drove out to his school.

Minnie was a native of Zenas, Jennings Co. Indiana, the youngest of a large family. She came to La Porte Co. in 1894, where three sisters, Mrs. Lulu Proud, Mrs. Jennie Bowel and Mrs. Viola Bowel were all living near Rolling Prairie Indiana. She made her home with her sister Viola and taught school at Springfield and at Fair school. During the year he taught at the Summit they lived near the school, and on the side, he engaged in buying, trading and selling live stock. At the close of the school year they moved on his fathers farm, and remained there for twenty five years, farming about 600 acres most of the time.

Minnie was an unusually industrious wife, performing the necessary household duties and raising poultry, and in addition was an ardent worker in the Bethel Friends Church, the Aid Society, and entered in all community affairs.

At the close of the World's War, Fred decided to quit farming, had a sale and moved into La Porte, to a home he purchased on Monroe St., where he still lives. Minnie lived only a few years after moving to the city. She became ill in the summer of 1927 and went to Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester Minn., where she took treatments for several weeks, and became much better. But soon after Christmas holidays she went into a decline and passed away in March 1928.

They had two children who grew to maturity, Maureen and Dwight.

Maureen married George Langman and they went to live on a farm owned by her father.

They had four children, Alice, Theodore, Mary and Allen. In August, four months after her mother's death, Maureen passed away in giving birth to Allen, who was so frail, that he was kept in the hospital until he was four years old.

About this time George Langman married Mae Fritz, a widow with three children, and they took Allen home, where he soon became as sturdy as any boy.

Fred is fond of telling this story about Maureen spending an afternoon with her Grandfather Hupp, when she was about three years old. Some small pigs had come into the yard and Grandfather told her she could have one to take home, if she could catch it. Running until she was hot and tired she came to sit beside the old gentleman, who teased her about not getting a pig, and this was her reply "Grandfather, how could I catch it, when I only have two legs, and it has four?"

Dwight was born on the farm and attended the grade school at Bethel, Holmes and Stillwell for eight years, then entered La Porte High.

After graduating he attended Indiana University for two years. While working in Indianapolis he met Edith Foster whom he married in May 1928. Edith was born in Grant Park, Ill. moving when a small child with her parents to a farm near Lowell, Indiana. She attended the township schools and was graduated from Lowell High School and took a course at Madame Blaker's Teachers College at Indianapolis Ind.

She taught two years at Schneiders, Indiana, one year at East Gary, and one semester at Door Village School. She also held kindergarten two summers in the home.

They have two daughters Sara Jane, named for Edith's mother and Minnie Joyce, named for Dwight's mother.

In November 1932, Fred married Elizabeth Sharp of Gary, a widow with four grown children. She attended the grade school in Scipio Township and was graduated from La Porte High School. She taught her first school at Beaver Dam, a township between Door Village and Westville, then in Scipio Township, three years at the Rogers, two years at the Watson and two years at the Butterworth school. She was interested in music and was organist of the Door Village M.E.Church for five years. She was a member of Miss Agnes Brown's "Guitar and Madolin Club", a novelty in those days which appeared at entertainments (gratis) in the neighboring towns. She, with her family moved to Gary just at the close of the World War. She became a charter member of the "War Mothers Club" as she had a son over-seas, and also a charter member of the Auxilliary of the American Legion. For eleven years before her marriage to Fred, she was employed in the Gary City Treasurers Office, cashier under one administration and book-keeper the rest of the time.

We have told of the marriages in the immediate family we will go back to Fred again, he left the farm and became interested in the lumber business and as it required so much of his time, he decided to give up farming.

His first venture was the purchase of a piece of timber near his home, with a neighbor, Wm. Davidson as a partner, and his first customer was the Buck Furniture Co. in La Porte.

Later, he carried on his business alone.

The first year he lived in La Porte he was employed by Harry Richter, to purchase lumber for him. Later he was sent by the late Maurice Fox to Brown County to locate and cruise some timber, about which Mr. Fox knew nothing except the legal discription. Fred stopped at Nashville, Indiana, and found a couple of men who were willing to help him locate the property, but remarked that they would have to watch for moonshiners, The first day a man suddenly and silently appeared and asked what they wanted. Fred told him, and inquired if he knew where the timber was. The stranger replied, "You air standin right now on some of it"

"Well", said Fred, "how would you like to hire out to me for a guide?" Reckon I mought as well, for I'll be with you all the time you-all is here anyway." He proved a good helper and never left Fred for a moment, and they didn't stumble on any moon-shining operations.

When Fred started his saw-mill again, he made a great many railroad ties, the Penn. Railroad and the Grand Trunk being his customers. As demands for lumber increased, he discontinued making ties, and made up orders for M. Rumley Co., the La Porte Sash & Door Co., and many other customers.

As the timber in La Porte Co. became scarce, he went into Michigan for his material, and also in the counties south of La Porte Co.

His customers who take the largest orders are the Illinois Steel Co. and the Republic Steel Co. and the Allis-Chalmers Co.

A great amount of the lumber is cut a special size to be used as braces or blocks, in shipping the steel rails, and also in the "puddling operations". He also cuts lumber for special orders for smaller concerns and for private orders.

Since an attack which rendered his right side helpless for a time, his son, Dwight manages the business for him.

67 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

† † † CONCLUSION † † †

The writing of the History of any family is a real task, the checking of names and the dates is very important, because many times different families give the names and dates of the same person differently, as was the case several times in this family. These had to be ironed out before the type was set up. Then too the proof-reading was a real job, because an amateur printer may use n for u or a p for q's and so on.

So after many weeks of research, type setting, printing and binding, down in my cellar, I now find my task completed, and ready to place this little volume in the hands of the family, setting fourth the history of the Richard Love Family.

It has been a pleasant task to put in print such record as could be found in family bibles and by the facts known to those now living.

Its my hope it may serve you and future generations to know something of the fire men and women, who did so much for us here today.

Finally, this book could never have been without the help of members of the family, so I desire to acknowlege my indebtedness to every one who helped in anyway.

I am greatly indebted to Mrs. Marvel Curtis for her help in the Lydia Love Galbreath branch, to Mrs. Burr Hupp and Mrs. Fred Hupp for the the splendid stories of their families. to Mrs. Edward Allcock of Pasadena California for her help in the Martha Love Davis family, to Mrs. Iva Love Starcher of Denver for her help in the George W. Love branch, to Ida M. Love Allen for the story of her father, William Marion Love to Guy and Birch Love for their help in the records of their families, to my daughter, Miss. Clara E. Allen for the story of her mother and her untiring help in checking names and dates, and not least of all "the proof reading".

Its my hope this little book will meet the approval of the family, and that future historians will find it helpful in carrying the history of this fine old family into a future date.

My great regret is that a connection could not be made ~~between~~ our branch and that of the Virginia branch. Some one may be able to do this later, then our history can be traced back to England.

69 GENEALOGY OF THE LOVE FAMILY

— FINAL GREETING —

We have reached the end of this book;
And may it find a place in your cozy nook;
I hope the history here of record;
Will cement the family into one accord,
Build up a kinship tie,
As the years, go swiftly by.

The Family are just common folks,
Yet as sturdy as the oaks.
They love nature in all its parts,
Have an eye for the color it imparts,
For the joy they knew, as the years flew,
While they built for me and you.

The memory of them, we shall always treasure
Throughout the year, as our measure,
Of what they did and of their good name
As a heritage to the family, may it always reign
Throughout the years, and may we add,
Something good to its records, and be glad.

So this little book has come to an end,
With a record of a family you can depend
To do their best, a willing part,
Because they have laughter in their heart,
So we close this book for what its worth,
Giving names and dates of family birth.
